

The image features four vertical wooden planks of varying shades of brown and tan, arranged side-by-side against a dark, textured background. The first plank on the left has the word "HOME" carved into it in a large, black, serif font, with each letter occupying one of the four vertical positions. The other three planks are blank, showing natural wood grain patterns, including knots and subtle variations in color. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the wood and the depth of the carved letters.
